Clayton's focus on health and nutrition for young children will be highlighted at this casually elegant evening on the historic Clayton Campus. Nearly 1 in 7 Colorado kids may not know when or where they will get their next meal. Clayton works to eliminate food insecurity with 1,000 nutritious meals each day, freshly prepared from scratch in our own kitchen.

About Clayton

Clayton is a hub for Colorado's innovative work in early childhood development. Committed to the belief that healthy early childhood development offers one of the most powerful levers for ending inequality, Clayton plays a leadership role in demonstrating what's possible in the early years and the positive impact that it has for children and families over time.

Clayton's Denver campus is home to Colorado's only Educare school, a nationally recognized model supporting children from birth to age five and their families. Clayton also influences systems change through our research and evaluation services, professional development for teachers and leaders, and policy and advocacy work at the state and federal levels. Our critical work impacts more than 20,000 children annually throughout Colorado.
